

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS

Submission Deadline: 5 August 2022

The PTC Emerging Scholar Program, formerly known as the PTC Young Scholar Program, aims to recognize, encourage, and support up-and-coming scholars in the field of information and communications technologies.

Applicants who are selected to participate in the 2023 PTC Emerging Scholar Program will present their research at the Pacific Rim's premier telecommunications event, PTC'23 in Honolulu, Hawaii, from 15 to 18 January 2023.

Who Should Apply?

- Scholars currently enrolled in a Ph.D. degree program or no more than five (5) years from receipt of their Ph.D.

Travel expenses and conference registration for the selected applicants will be covered by PTC.

The 2023 PTC Emerging Scholar Program offers promising researchers the opportunity to:

- Participate in PTC'23 activities
- Gain insights into current industry issues and new trends
- Meet PTC'23 attendees to share ideas and identify practical research applications
- Receive feedback from distinguished scholars and industry leaders
- Network with industry professionals, members of international organizations, NGOs, government officials, and academics from over 70 nations
