

YOUNG SCHOLAR PROGRAM '18

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS
SUBMISSION DEADLINE 1 SEPTEMBER 2017

PTC's Young Scholar Program aims to recognize, encourage and support up-and-coming scholars in the field of information and communication technologies (ICTs).

PTC'18: Connecting Worlds will be the 40th Anniversary celebration of PTC's annual conference, opening a new decade of connections. Selected participants for the 2018 PTC Young Scholar Program will be invited to present their research at PTC'18: Connecting Worlds, which will take place in Honolulu, Hawaii from 21-24 January 2018.

The 2018 PTC Young Scholar Program offers promising researchers the opportunity to:

- Present their research in a high-visibility academic and industry forum
- Receive feedback from distinguished scholars and industry leaders
- Participate in PTC'18 activities
- Gain exposure to current industry issues and trends
- Meet PTC'18 attendees to share ideas, gain new insights, and identify practical research applications
- Network with industry professionals, members of international organizations and NGOs, government officials, and academics from over 75 countries

2017 Young Scholar Program Recipients, Left to right:
Elizabeth Fife, PTC Research Committee Co-Chair (USC), Ai Phuong Hoang (Singapore Management University), Mina Jun (Korea University), Valentina Nardone (University of Rome), Mohamed El-Moghazi (University of Strathclyde), David Agogo (University of Massachusetts, Amherst), and Mark Chun, PTC Research Committee Co-Chair (Pepperdine University)

Travel expenses and conference registration for the selected applicants will be covered by PTC.
